

Sandra Khazam

**Current Branch Committee member*

Sandra Khazam has over 25 years in the museum sector, working across community and state institutions and local government. With experience spanning interpretation of intangible and tangible cultural and built heritage - including management of contested memorials in public spaces - strategic planning and collection policy development, Sandra brings insight and skills in contemporary practice across different disciplines.

She has worked in curatorial, exhibition, collection, leadership and mentoring roles, including at the Jewish Museum of Australia and Immigration Museum in Melbourne, and the Museum and Art Gallery of the Northern Territory. She is currently Art & Heritage Team Leader at City of Port Phillip.

Chair of the National Trust of Australia (Victoria) Public Art Committee from 2014 to 2019, she also holds a Master of Museum Studies from Deakin University.

In a time of ongoing challenges and stress, Sandra brings experience, engagement and support delivered with knowledge, passion and commitment. Sandra would like to continue to be a voice on the Branch Committee for the growing number of museum professionals.
