

CAROLINE WALL

Senior Manager | Accreditation Programs

Working and living on Woi Wurrung (Wurundjeri) and Boon Wurrung land, Caroline is an advocate for museums and cultural collections of all sizes, promoting museum standards and practice with a strong passion for the sector.

Caroline joined AMaGA Victoria in 2013. She has held roles in Administration, the Accreditation Programs, and recently worked as Collections and Community Resilience Officer, undertaking training and digitisation with varied collections across regional Victoria.

Caroline holds a Masters in Cultural Heritage and Museum Studies, and has worked and volunteered in exhibitions research and development, acquisitions and collections management. She began her museum journey overseas, studying at the British Museum, volunteering in museums in London, and on an archaeology project in Romania.

When she is not visiting museums and galleries, she can be found kid-wrangling, attending music festivals or camping.
